

From: [REDACTED]
To: FN-OMB-IntellectualProperty
Subject: A Fair Copyright Enforcement Plan
Date: Wednesday, March 17, 2010 9:56:59 AM

Re: Comments on the Joint Strategic Plan Victoria Espinel Intellectual Property Enforcement Coordinator Office of Management and Budget Executive Office of the President Filed via email Dear Ms. Espinel: Copyright infringement should be handled like any other criminal activity in our country: innocent until proven guilty. No one should be arbitrarily punished, or lose their internet connection, or be required to remove content until the complaining party has proven infringement legally.

This is the American way. Period. Sincerely,